USCCB Liturgy Of The Hours

The Liturgy of the Hours, also known as the Divine Office or the Work of God (Opus Dei), is the daily prayer of the Church, marking the hours of each day and sanctifying the day with prayer. The Hours are a meditative dialogue on the mystery of Christ, using scripture and prayer. At times the dialogue is between the Church or individual soul and God; at times it is a dialogue among the members of the Church; and at times it is even between the Church and the world. The Divine Office "is truly the voice of the Bride herself addressed to her Bridegroom. It is the very prayer which Christ himself together with his Body addresses to the Father." (SC 84) The dialogue is always held, however, in the presence of God and using the words and wisdom of God. Each of the five canonical Hours includes selections from the Psalms that culminate in a scriptural proclamation. The two most important or hinge Hours are Morning and Evening Prayer. These each include a Gospel canticle: the Canticle of Zechariah from Luke 1:68-79 for Morning Prayer (known as the Benedictus), and the Canticle of Mary from Luke 1:46-55 for Evening Prayer (known as the Magnificat). The Gospel canticle acts as a kind of meditative extension of the scriptural proclamation in light of the Christ event. Morning and Evening Prayer also include intercessions that flow from the scriptural proclamation just as the Psalms prepare for it. (Continued on page 2)

(cont'd)

In the Hours, the royal priesthood of the baptized is exercised, and this sacrifice of praise is thus connected to the sacrifice of the Eucharist, both preparing for and flowing from the Mass.
"The hymns and litanies of the Liturgy of the Hours integrate the prayer of the psalms into the age of the Church, expressing the symbolism of the time of day, the liturgical season, or the feast being celebrated. Moreover, the reading from the Word of God at each Hour (with the subsequent responses or troparia) and readings from the Fathers and spiritual masters at certain Hours, reveal more deeply the meaning of the mystery being celebrated, assist in understanding the psalms, and prepare for silent prayer." (CCC 1177)
The five Hours of the Divine Office are:
Office of Readings
Morning Prayer
Daytime Prayer
Evening Prayer
Night Prayer

USCCB Liturgia de las Horas

La Liturgia de las Horas, también conocido como el Oficio Divino o de la Obra de Dios (Opus Dei), es la oración diaria de la Iglesia, que marca las horas de cada día para santificar el día con la oración. El horario es de un diálogo de meditación en el misterio de Cristo, mediante la escritura y la oración. A veces el diálogo entre la Iglesia o el alma individual y Dios; a veces se trata de un diálogo entre los miembros de la Iglesia; y, a veces incluso entre la Iglesia y el mundo. El Oficio Divino "es realmente la voz de la misma Esposa que habla al Esposo. Es la oración de Cristo, con su mismo Cuerpo, al Padre." (SC 84) El diálogo siempre se lleva a cabo, sin embargo, en la presencia de Dios y el uso de las palabras y la sabiduría de Dios. Cada una de las cinco horas canónicas incluye una selección de los Salmos que culminan en una proclamación de las escrituras. Los dos más importantes son El horario de Laudes y Vísperas. Cada uno de estos incluyen un canto al Evangelio: el Cántico de Zacarías en Lucas 1: 68-79 para la oración de la mañana (conocido como el Benedictus), y el canto de María en Lucas 1: 46-55 para la oración de la tarde (conocido como el Magnificat). El cántico del Evangelio actúa como una especie de extensión de meditación de la proclamación de las Escrituras a la luz de Cristo. Laudes y vísperas también incluyen intercesiones que se derivan de la proclamación de las Escrituras al igual que el Salmo para prepararse para ella.
En las Horas, el sacerdocio real de los bautizados se ejerce, y este sacrificio de alabanza es, pues, conectado con el sacrificio de la Eucaristía, y fluye para la preparación de la misa.
"Los himnos y letanías de la Liturgia de las Horas integran la oración de los salmos en el tiempo de la Iglesia, expresando el simbolismo de la hora del día, el tiempo litúrgico o la fiesta que se celebra. Por otra parte, la lectura de la Palabra de Dios en cada hora (con las respuestas posteriores o troparia) y lecturas de los Padres y maestros espirituales, a ciertas horas, revelan más profundamente el significado del misterio, ayudan a la inteligencia de los salmos y preparan para la oración silenciosa. " (CCC 1177) Las cinco horas del Oficio Divino son:
Oficio de lectura, La oración de la mañana,
La oración durante el día, Oración nocturna y la Oración de la noche.

Jubilee Year of Mercy

Eleventh Sunday in Ordinary Time

On today's Jubilee for Those Sick and Suffering Disabilities, Jesus encounters a woman who is "spiritually ill." She is thus "disabled" from participating in Israel's worshiping community or polite society. Bathing Jesus' feet with tears, drying them with unveiled hair, anointing them (Luke 7:38) risk Jesus' becoming "unclean." Yet his mercy welcomes even such inappropriate behavior as her sincere manifestation of love: "Your sins are forgiven. Go in peace" (7:48, 50). Go not just in "peace," but in shalom, the all-enveloping, life-changing assurance of God's mercy. She is anonymous, "known in the city" only as "a sinful woman" (7:37). The character with name and religious title, "Simon the Pharisee" (7:36, 40), judges her harshly, but himself not at all, and thus forfeits God's mercy. This Jubilee Year of Mercy challenges us to self-examination. In which role do we most often cast ourselves, humble sinner or judgmental Pharisee? Jesus declares that only by an unfailing willingness to show mercy to fellow sinners can we hope to obtain mercy ourselves (see Misericordiae Vultus, 9).

Año Jubilar de la Misericordia

Undécimo Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

Hoy en el Jubileo por los Enfermos y las personas con Capacidades Diferentes, Jesús encuentra a una mujer que está "espiritualmente enferma". Ella no puede participar plenamente ni en la comunidad de culto y adoración de Israel ni en la sociedad. Ella lava los pies de Jesús con sus lágrimas y los seca con el cabello, ungiéndolos (Lucas 7:38) arriesgando a que Jesús quede "impuro". Sin embargo, su misericordia acoge estas acciones inapropiadas como una manifestación sincera de amor: "tus pecados son perdonados. Vete en paz" (7:48, 50). No solo ve en "paz", sino en shalom, con todo lo que esto significa, la garantía de que la vida cambia con la misericordia de Dios. Ella es una mujer excluida y "solo conocida en la ciudad" como "una mujer pecadora" (7:37). El personaje con nombre y título religioso "Simón el fariseo" (7:36, 40) la juzga muy fuertemente, pero él mismo no se juzga y por lo tanto, desaprovecha la misericordia de Dios. Este Año Jubilar de la Misericordia nos desafía a hacer un examen personal de conciencia. ¿En cuál situación nos encontramos más frecuentemente, como una persona que reconoce sus culpas o como un fariseo listo para juzgar? Jesús dice que mediante una voluntad inquebrantable para mostrar misericordia a nuestros prójimos pecadores nosotros mismos podemos obtener misericordia (ver Misericordiae Vultus, 9).

Stewardship by the Book

Like Nathan in today's first reading, we sin when we begin to feel entitled and act as if what we have is ours by right, when we forget that everything we have is an unmerited gift from God. But God is gracious and forgiving—even when we use His gifts wrongly or squander them thoughtlessly—if, like Nathan, we confess our guilt and ask His pardon.

La Administración de Nuestro Tiempo, Talento y Tesoro como Bienes de Dios, según "el Libro"

Como Natán en la primera lectura de hoy, pecamos cuando empezamos a sentir el derecho y actuar como si lo que tenemos es nuestro por derecho, cuando nos olvidamos que todo lo que tenemos es un regalo no merecido de Dios. Pero Dios es clemente y perdonador—inclusive cuando utilizamos mal Sus regalos o los despilfarramos descuidadamente –si,, como Natán, confesamos nuestra culpa y pedimos Su perdón.
